MARION, Ind., April 26.—The bleeding and senseless body of Bert Keck, line superintendent of the United Telephone Company, was found early this morning on the bank of the Mississinewa river at the Jonesboro bridge, six miles south of this city.

In what manner it came there is still a mystery, but foul play is suspected, as Keck was badly bruised about the shoulders and had a bad cut on the head. He was brought to Marion and taken to the Marion Hospital, where all day he has been delirious. His injuries are serious and he may not live. Keck, in company with his wife, went to Gas City and stayed all night at a roadside near where he was found. He went to bed, as did his companions, and he came to be on the river, unconscious and almost nude, will not be known unless Keck recovers sufficiently to tell the story. He has a wife and one daughter.

May Have Been a Murder.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
SALEM, Ind., April 26.—Relatives of Walter B. Thompson, who was found dead yesterday morning between the railroad tracks at Mitchell, believe he was murdered in that town. The body was brought here and taken to his home, northeast of Salem, last evening. Thompson was a farmer and left Salem Monday to go to St. Louis. He had $50 in money, but when he arrived only $25 was found in his pockets. The authorities at Mitchell think he fell off a train or was struck by a train and killed in the yards there.

Fatally Crushed by a Wheel.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MUNCIE, Ind., April 26.—Charles Eckert, a workman employed at the Midland steel plant, this morning was probably fatally injured by a heavy iron wheel falling across his abdomen. Eckert was knocked down by the heavy piece of machinery and the wheel fell directly across his body. The weight of the metal and the force of the fall caused internal injuries to be inflicted, from which recovery is doubtful. He was taken to the Whitely Hospital. It was found that his spine had been injured and some of the internal organs affected. He is thirty-five years old.

Baby Burned to Death.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MARTINSVILLE, Ind., April 26.—The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Neely, living five miles east of this city, was burned to death this afternoon. IT LOOKS LIKE WELLMAN.

Sullivan County Congressional Fight Is Down to the Battle Line.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
SULLIVAN, Ind., April 26.—The boom of C. W. Wellman for Congress was launched to-day, and the affair seemed to have a demoralizing effect upon the Davis supporters. A large number of C. E. Davis's supporters were here working for their candidate. It seemed to be the opinion that votes obtained for Davis will weaken Miers. Miers's supporters began an active work to-night. John R. East of Bloomington is carrying the county in Monday's primary. It is conjectured that Wellman's forces are working to make a deadlock in the congressional convention, which, no doubt, would give Wellman a good chance for the nomination.

Lafayette Republicans Satisfied.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 26.—Daniel E. Storms, the unanimous choice of the recent Republican convention for secretary of state, returned to this city last night from Indianapolis. Although there was no formal demonstration in his honor, due to the fact that his success was fully anticipated, he is being congratulated on all sides by hundreds of enthusiastic admirers in the city and surrounding country. Storms's widespread popularity is evidenced by the number of congratulatory telegrams he has received from points in Indiana, New York, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois and elsewhere. Republicans in the city and county heartily endorse the action of the convention in every particular, and on all sides are heard expressions of satisfaction over the make-up of the state ticket.

One of the best speeches made was by Meade Vestal, chairman of the Democratic county committee. Mr. Sherrick responded with an eloquent address. All of Hamilton county is pleased with the honor Mr. Sherrick has received.

VETO OF A FRANCHISE.

Mayor of Lafayette Wants Municipal Supervision of Traction Lines.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 26.—Mayor Justice, in vetoing the street-railway franchise and ordinance passed by the City Council on April 14, this afternoon gave as his reason for so doing that he approves portions of the ordinance, but does not believe in that part of the franchise which gives the company exclusive right to the streets over which interurban cars may enter. He also wants a provision inserted compelling the railway companies to pay for each foot of all streets improved as are occupied by their tracks. Regarding the omission of a time clause, he points out danger in granting permanent privileges that may be harmful years hence. The veto message goes on to say:

"You cannot be sure the management of the street-railway will remain as at present, under the control of home people. It will drift into the control of outside capitalists who will consult their own convenience in place of ours. Frame your ordinance so that you will have some control over the traffic of the company within the city limits."

Work to Begin on Monday.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
LAFORTE, Ind., April 26.—It was announced to-day that the actual work of construction on the interurban line between Laporte and Michigan City, which the Chicago & South Shore Railway Company has stated it will build, will be begun Monday with a big gang of laborers. Although several cars of steel are here there has been so much talking about the road for the past four years that the present activities are viewed by many as a mere campaign purpose, one of the promoters being Lemuel Darrow, the Democratic candidate for mayor.

Kansas University's New Chancellor.

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 26.—Dr. Frank Strong, of the University of Oregon, was to-day elected chancellor of the University of Kansas to succeed Dr. F. H. Snow, who resigned a year ago because of ill health.

Mr. Strong, who was born at Venice, N. Y., in 1859, and was graduated from Yale in 1884, has spent most of his life in the West. He was principal of the St. Joseph, Mo., High School from 1888 to 1890; superintendent of schools at Lincoln, Neb., from 1892 to 1895, and vice president of the Nebraska Association of Superintendents and Principals from 1897 to 1899. night. The audience was very large and enthusiastic. BLOWN INTO A CREEK.

Henry Tirge, Sixty-Eight Years Old, Drowned in Shallow Water.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
ALEXANDRIA, Ind., April 26.—Henry Tirge was found dead early this morning in Little Pine creek. He was sixty-eight years old. Mr. Tirge left his home about 5 o'clock last evening to take his customary walk. He was quite feeble and in walking close to the bank of the creek he is supposed to have been caught by the strong wind that was blowing and to have been hurled down the bank. The fall evidently stunned him, as the water where he was found lying face downward was only six or eight inches deep. He was missed at supper time and his son organized searching parties which scoured the surrounding territory all night, but with no success until about 5 o'clock this morning. The body will be sent to Pittsburg for burial.

SINGER STRIKE BROKEN.

Increased Pay for the Men Who Are Working in the Cause.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 26.—The backbone of the strike of the employees of the Singer Manufacturing Company was broken this afternoon, and although the strikers' executive committee did its best to prevent the crushing blow, there is no doubt that all of the strikers are working in the Singer shops on Monday.

The blow which caused the break in the strike, now ten weeks old, was the payment of the 60 men who had returned to work, nearly all of the men having their wages increased from 25 to 50 cents per piece. The labor demonstration to-night was not the big success which the strike leaders had expected, less than 1,000 men being in line.

Hat Works to Close.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
WABASH, Ind., April 26.—Owing to it alleged to the demands for increased wages by the employees, Nathan Meyer, owner of the Pioneer hat works, in this city, will close down the establishment indefinitely on Wednesday next. Mr. Meyer says he has paid the top scale, and that to increase the compensation of his employees will result in personal loss, and he prefers to shut down until a more favorable scale can be made. The works is the only one west of the Alleghenies and is independent of the trust, which, it is stated, has opened negotiations for it. Mr. Meyer refuses to say whether he will enter the combine or will sell the property.

Strikers Fire on a Car.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
BRAZIL, Ind., April 26.—A serious assault was made on an interurban car near Seelyville last night by a body of strike sympathizers. They began shooting and throwing rocks through the windows of the car. Those in charge of the car returned the shots, one of the strikers being killed and several in the jaw, inflicting a serious wound. The passengers lay down in the floor of the car to escape injury.

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Second Annual Minstrel Performance
by Muncie Young Men.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MUNCIE, Ind., April 26.—The second annual performance of the Muncie Club minstrel show this week was attended by two of the largest audiences that have ever filled the Wyandor Grand Theater. For twenty-seven hours before the advance sale of seats for each of the two night's performances lines of boys and men stood waiting their turn to get the seats, and less than two hours was consumed for the sale of the entire house on each occasion. More than 5,000 persons witnessed the performances.

The club is a social organization with a membership of 100. The first performance gave their first performance last season and made a great success. This caused the rush for seats this season, and the patrons were none the less pleased with the performance. The club this year went to much expense in fitting out a splendid minstrel troupe, and the stage setting was never surpassed by the big companies, the young men in burnt cork making a fine appearance in their part. The Muncie Young Men's club is in charge of the music. Clifford Taylor was in charge of the singing, and the patrons were pressed agent and Hal C. Kimbrough stage director. Clifford Taylor was in charge of the singing, and the patrons were pressed agent and Hal C. Kimbrough stage director. Logansport Citizen Thus Saved Himself from an Early Grave.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 26.—Alonso Dixon, a teamster residing in this city, a few days ago coughed up several small particles which proved to be grains of wheat which had sprouted in his lungs. He had inhaled them while threshing wheat on the farm of John Palmer, south of the city, last August, and during the time they were in his lungs he suffered a great deal and physicians did him no good. He was treated for several months and even for consumption, but continued to grow weaker and no hope for his recovery was chanced. He was finally cured by coughing them up. The trouble was caused by the fact that he had been coughing them up he has been improving rapidly.

Farm Fires Near Hagerstown.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
HAGERSTOWN, Ind., April 26.—A fire started by sparks from an engine broke out in a strip of woodland bordering the Panhandle railroad, four miles west of town, on Friday afternoon. The flames, fanned by a strong wind from the south, spread rapidly and soon reached the woods on the Hindman farm. The fire burned fences, grass and underbrush and climbed to the tops of trees, converting a large tract into a burning mass. Almost a hundred people gathered to fight the fire in the woods but they had to be abandoned. The fire was not extinguished until the morning, and attention was given to the saving of fences and fields. Meador, the owner of the farm, lost about 100 acres of land and fences by removing them bodily.

Cuba's delicious Vuelta tobacco is now successfully grown in the U. S.,— in three states touching southern Atlantic and gulf waters.

When agriculture was prostrated in Cuba, Bondy & Lederer of New York started experiments in transplanting young sprouts taken from the Cuban Vuelta Abajos district. Portions of Florida, Louisiana and Texas have long been known to present the conditions of land elevation, soil, sea mists and action of the sun, identical with the Vuelta Cuban district which is so near those points. The young plants thrived and produced a tobacco exactly the same as grown a few miles across those waters. This leaf was found wholly different from the seed growths of Havana tobacco grown in this country for many years.

After these growths were increased from resprouting and expansive planting until a crop of large proportions was reached the first cutting was made and stored for curing. After three years of natural curing, its ripe, delicious flavor was found perfect for use in highest priced goods. But the saving of heavy duty and the continually increased supply of this tobacco at last prompted Bondy & Lederer to put this same stock into a five-cent cigar; the old brand of the house known as the Tom Keene was selected for its benefit. This is why you find the exquisite flavor in the Tom Keene, never before known in a five-cent cigar in this country. Try it, it will be plainly apparent to you.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S HOME.

Henry County Dedicates the Grose Homestead to County History.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
NEW CASTLE, Ind., April 26.—A very interesting occasion in New Castle to-day was the annual meeting of the Henry County Historical Society, together with the exercises held in dedicating the new home of the society, which is the former beautiful residence of the late Gen. William Grose.

About seventeen years ago a few enterprising citizens, realizing the importance of gathering and preserving the pioneer history of the county, met and amidst many discouraging surroundings, organized the Henry County Historical Society. Among those who fostered the enterprise were the late Thomas B. Redding and Elwood Peas, both scientists of international fame; Benjamin S. Parker, the late Judge Mellett and Nathan H. Ballenger. The society grew in interest and attendance, and when in 1881 Mr. Parker succeeded in getting his historic society bill passed by the Legislature, authorizing county commissioners to purchase or provide homes for historical societies, the local organization was at once incorporated. The commissioners appropriated $5,000 and the Grose homestead was purchased last fall, since which time there has been a rapid increase in the collection of articles associated with the history of the county, and the home already takes on the nature of a place of great public interest.

The annual meeting was begun at 10 o'clock with invocation by Dr. M. Mahin and introductory remarks by the president, Robert M. Chambers. Mrs. S. A. Peas read an interesting paper on "Early Days in Richmond." A. W. Saint made a short address. A life-size portrait of the late Simon T. Powell was then presented to the society by Mr. Powell's son, Henry L. Powell, and Judge M. E. Forkner accepted the portrait on behalf of the society.
At the noon hour a picnic dinner was held and much enjoyed. The afternoon exercises consisted of the dedication of the building, and were in the nature of a cantata arranged by B. S. Parker and given under the management of Prof. W. E. M. Browne.

The entire affair was very interesting throughout.

Meeting of Johnson's Creditors.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
ANDERSON, Ind., April 26.—The leading creditors with Manson U. Johnson, of this city, held a meeting this morning and decided to place the business of Johnson's company in the hands of the Anderson Trust Company for final accounting and settlement. All the creditors were represented save the Peck-Williamson Company, of Cincinnati. The claims represented at this meeting amounted to fully $45,000, one firm of attorneys alone holding over $20,000. Mr. Johnson stated that the assets of the business would reach about $80,000 and would be in excess of liabilities fully $20,000. The Peck-Williamson Company this afternoon began replevin proceedings and is trying to secure the property, if possible, in that manner. The Cincinnati people refused to join the other creditors and are endeavoring to pull out their property intact.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 26.—Norman Rohrer, of Millersburg, who has been missing since Feb. 11, has been found at Jamestown, Ind., in a demented condition, and his relatives left for that town to-night.
Rohrer disappeared on Feb. 11 from Detroit, where he had been attending a medical college, and as he had that day withdrawn a deposit from the bank, it was feared he was the victim of foul play.
Rohrer was not only a leading young man of Millersburg, but was favorably known at Goshen and Elkhart.

cil has awarded the contract for the building of the Bedford sewerage plant to James W. Waugh for $3,971. Mr. Waugh has just completed a seven-mile sewerage system plant will be of septic-tank construction and will require about five or six months' labor for many men. There were eight bidders for the work. Mr. Waugh's bid was the lowest, being within less than $1,000 of the engineer's estimate, while the highest bid was nearly $4,000. Work will be begun at once.

Smallpox Quarantine Violated.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
WABASH, Ind., April 26.—Dr. Burraker, of Serbia, this county, came to Wabash to-day to file affidavits against a large number of people of that place for violating the smallpox quarantine which he undertook to enforce a month ago. The disease appeared in the village and the doctor acting on instructions from the State Board of Health, rigidly quarantined all who had been exposed. Many persons disregarded his orders and went from house to house, and as a consequence there were more than forty cases of the disease.
